Fillings

> Anesthetic is usually used for dental fillings. Your lips and tongue could be numb for several hours after your appointment. It is recommended that you avoid chewing until the numbness has completely worn off to avoid injury.

> Hot, cold, and pressure sensitivity is normal after your appointment. The injection site may also be sore. Over the counter pain medications should handle any discomfort.

> If temperature, pressure, bite, or any unexplained sensitivity persists, or gets worse, call our office immediately for an appointment.
